Gloria Translation

Gloria in excelsis Deo
Alleluia, Amen.

Glory to God in the highest.
Alleluia, Amen.

About the piece

This exuberant piece is scored for mixed voices with an optional descant that can be sung as a solo or small group of first sopranos. Featuring dance-like compound meter, accents, syncopation, and contemporary harmonies, Gloria would make a joyful and impactful concert or festival opener for school, community, or church choir.

The opening “gloria” chant is called Responsory Antiphon and it references historical Gregorian Chant dating back to ancient times. Its purpose acts as a signal, setting the tone for the piece. It should be sung simply, yet cheerfully, with minimal vibrato by a single voice or small group in steady, plainchant style.

Care throughout the piece should be taken to draw attention to dynamics, word stresses, and contrasts in mood, such as in the smooth Alleluia section, so that places of build can truly shine. Likewise, the piano should join in the exuberance, yet never over-powering the voices. Soli Deo Gloria!
